120.000 Hairs in a Normal Head!

The average normal head has about 120 inches of scalp, and 1,000 hairs to an inch.

Just imagine trying to get the soap out of that many hairs after a shampoo. It simply can't be done. Because soap is insoluble, and is bound to stick to the "featherlike" construction of the hair.

RAVOL is different. Made from the juice of a life-giving plant, it cleanses better than soap and other shampoos. It immediately dissolves oils, dirt and grit—and, when it has done its cleansing work, it vanishes instantly in the rinse water. RAVOL is 100% soluble in water.

Your hair is delightfully soft and silky five minutes after you've had a RAVOL Shampoo. But don't look for lather in this Scapless Shampoo—look for dirt in the rinse water. RAVOL corrects dandruff, oily hair, falling hair, itching scalp, thin, lifeless hair and dull, shabby hair.

Try this new and better shampoo. It's a revelation!

This morning the February Housefurnishing Sales swing into their last eight days - their most important days. Between now and the close of business next Wednesday thousands of amazing values will be available. In the housefurnishing sections which are having sales the greater part of the stocks are reduced in price. Even the finest and newest merchandise bears much lower prices during these events, and no matter how much or how little you spend, your savings will be worth while, . . . In this last week of the sales particularly low prices prevail on lines that we are closing out and on odd pieces of merchandise.

Another Improvement in Car Service

For the greater comfort of street car passengers, new and larger electric lamps are being installed in Chicago Surface Lines cars. Illumination will be increased about 40 per cent.

To make the change one hundred thousand 36 watt lamps will be required. The new lamps will increase the cost of electric current used for lighting by about $25,000 annually.

Illuminating engineers, after a careful survey, found that while the 23 watt clear glass lamps which have been standard on the system, provided sufficient light for reading without injury to the eyes, lamps of greater capacity with inside frosting would prove more satisfactory.

The management immediately adopted the lamp recommended for the purpose, and all cars are being equipped as rapidly as possible.

This improvement is but one of many made in recent years for the purpose of increasing the comfort and convenience of Surface Lines service, which is ranked by the electric railway industry among the best in the country.

DOUI Stomach

Sweetened instantly

Just a tasteless dose of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in water. That is an alkali, effective, yet harmless. It has been the standard antacid for 50 years among physicians everywhere. One spoonful will neutralize at once many times its volume in acid. It is the right way, the quick, pleasant and efficient way to kill the excess acid. The stomach becomes sweet, the pain departs. You are happy again in five minutes.

Don't depend on crude methods.

Careless Washing Spoils Children's Hair

Any child can have besutiful hair—healthy and luxuriant. It is simply a matter of shampooing.

Proper shampooing makes the hair soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and lustre, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While children's hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, fine young hair and tender scalps cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why thoughtful mothers everywhere now use Mulsified Coccanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls of Mulsified is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust and dirt.

It leaves the hair soft and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Coccanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

Lloyd Hahn, came back from the middle west today to add fuel to the athletic tempest growing out of his flat charges of unsportsmanslike conduct against Ray Conger, who defeated the Boston A. A. star in a record breaking 1,000 yard race at Kansas City Saturday night.

Hahn said that unless he is influenced by his coach, he will withdraw from the most widely heralded running event of the indoor season—the one mile race at the Kaighta of Columbus meet. Greeted by a chorus of cheers mingled with some jeers, Hahn stepped out and speedily drew away from three rivals. He held the lead from the crack of the gun and won by 25 yards from Sid Robinson of Mississippi A. & M. college, who barely beat out Galen Elliott of the University of North Carolina in a finishing spurt. During the winter Jones seemed able to overcome the belief that his arm would not stand the strain of heavy work. When training started he told McCarthy he was confident toothing could go wrong. McCarthy told him right back he should have feit that way about it last summer. It might have made a difference of at least a few games in the pennant race. St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 20.—[Special.]— Ed Lewis, the Strangler, is the undis puted heavyweight wrestling cham-pion of the world.

Tonight in the Collseum here Lewis defeated Joe Stecher of Dodge, Neb., two out of three falls in the presence of 6,000 men and women, who paid about $60,000 for the show.

Lewis won the first fall in 2 hours 16 minutes and 40 seconds with a com-bination head lock and bar arm. Stecher took the second fall in 1 min-ute and 18 seconds with a double wrist lock and cross body lock. Then the Strangler won the third and deciding fall in 12 minutes and 50 seconds a double wrist lock and body bar.

It Looked Honest. The match had indications of being on the level, and, as it was wrestled, Lewis was the better man. All through the first fall the Strangler was the aggressor. He forced the milling and threw Stecher to the mat several times with waist locks. Joe always was on the defensive. Only once did he make an effort to take the lead. This effort enabled Lewis to toss Stecher to the mat. Joe stayed down until he had been pinned.

Not once did Stetcher get an opportunity to apply his famous body scissors and Lewis did not secure his head lock from a standing position. At times Ed resorted to front and side head locks when he had Stecher on the mat. n the level, and, as it was wrestled

Ed was careful, except during the second fall, when he was trapped by Stecher after he had thrown the Nebraskan to the mat with Rivals for Eight Years.

It was a good match between the two men who have been bitter rivals ever since Lewis defeated Stecher in New York back in 1920.

Since 1925 Stecher has claimed the championship, but so has Lewis. Tonight's victory settled what three years' argument coudn't.

There was little betting on the re-suit. Joe was a favorite in St. Louis, through sentiment, but Lewis was a slight choice before the men entered the ring. The receipts were disappointing, as Promoter Packs expected the gate would exceed that of $78,000, which was the largest in history. This amount was taken in at the second Gotch-Hackenschmidt match in Chi-

Pat McGill, and Max Bauman. Stecher followed shortly afterwards. Tony, his brother and manager, was his chief second, who was assisted by Nick Lutze. The men posed before a battery of cameras. Then Referee Harry Sharpe called them to the center of the ring for instructions. They took holds at 6 minutes after 10 o'clock. FIRST FALL.

A corporation is a convenient method of holding property, someone has said.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is thus "convenient" to more than 55,900 people who have elected to invest their savings in a great enterprise.

Men and women from every walk of life are shareholders in this corporation. Their number is equal to the population of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a goodly city. If they were grouped together in a city of shareholders, its population would be as varied as any other city's-numbering people of all ages, occupations and fortunes.

A great many of the 55,900 shareholders of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) would find it impossible to own any sort of business individually. They have only small amounts of money to invest, earned by hard work and saved by thrift and sacrifice.

Yet in cooperation with other stockholders of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) they are able to own a business that covers 10 states and serves 30 million people.

They are able to share in the earnings of the large scale production of a well-run, efficient

They are able to invest their money as securely and profitably as men of larger means.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is more than a method of holding property which 55,900 people have found convenient.

It is a method of pooling energy and interests, as well as money, to the advantage of all concerned.

29,573 men and women, 15,325 of whom are stockholders, give their time and effort, and wholehearted loyalty to the work of this corporation.

Their combined energies accomplish an enormous task and earn for them the rewards they have a right to expect.

Opportunities are unlimited in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). Promotions are won by ability and effort. This democratic policy and the size of the organization give each individual a chance to invest his ability where it will accomplish most and earn a proportionate reward.

The money of stockholders, the effort and ability of employes are combined in the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) to serve 30 million people in the Middle West.

The great group that owns it—the great group that operates it-have assumed the obligation of supplying the motorists of the Middle West with petroleum products of unquestioned quality at prices which are reasonable and fair.

They discharge this obligation with precision enthusiasm and integrity of purpose.

You should know this about steel

Ordinary steel-carbon steel-may not meet the requirements of your product for many different reasons.

Certain steel parts may be continually giving you trouble and you would like to make them stronger, but you can't do this with ordinary steel because it would add bulk and weight and perhaps mean a radical change in design.

But an alloy steel can be made to meet your needs exactly.

The character of an alloy steel can be made what you want it to be -stronger, tougher, more ductile, more elastic, and without loss of machinability.

An Interstate metallurgist can help you choose your steel, and Interstate precise manufacture can make sure you'll get it.

GUARANTY TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK—TRUSTEE

Mr. P. J. Murphy, Vice-President of the Railroad Company, has summarized as follows his letter describing PROPERTY: The Lackswanna and Wyoming Valley Railroad Company, organized under the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, operates by a third-rail electric system a double-track railroad of modern and substantial construction between Scranton, Pittston and Wilkes-Barre, Pennsylvania. This road, including an extension to Dunmore, Pa., is twenty-two miles in length and has been built entirely on private right-of-way owned by the Railroad Company, with one minor exception. Construction, both as to road-bed and equipment, has been according to standard specifications in order to permit the interchange of equipment with the steam railroads connecting with its lines, i. e., the Delaware, Lackswanna and Western Railroad, the Lehigh Valley Railroad and the Eric Railroad.

The Railroad Company owns the entire capital stock of the road and the Eric Railroad.

The Railroad Company owns the entire capital stock of the Lackswanna and Wyoming Valley Power Company which generates the electric power used by the railroad. The power plant, which is owned by the Railroad Company and leased to the Power Company, has a capacity of 5,000 K. W., is located at Scranton, and with the transmission lines and substations cost over $1,000,000. The Power Company sells surplus power to private consumers and to the Scranton Electric Company, one of the principal subsidiaries of the American Gas & Electric Company, Car storage and repair shops of the Railroad Company, also located at Scranton, are adequately equipped. Substantial passenger and freight stations are located at suitable points along the line.

The Railroad Company owns valuable terminal properties, consisting of modern brick structures and 98 acres of real estate in Scranton and 15 acres in Wilkes-Barre. These properties are exceptionally well located, being adjacent to the business centers of each city.

TERRITORY: The important manufacturing centers, Scran-

TERRITORY: The important manufacturing centers, Scranton (estimated population 140,000), Pittston (estimated population 50,000) and Wilkes-Barre (estimated population 95,000), are situated in the heart of one of the richest anthracite mining regions in the United States. The territory between these cities is well populated and has shown substantial growth both in the establishment of industrial plants and in population. The total population tributary to the lines of the Railroad Company is estimated to be in excess of 500,000.

SECURITY: The above described Bonds are secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a direct first mortgage upon all the real estate and other physical property of the Railroad Company with one minor exception, including rolling stock, and upon the franchises of the Railroad Company. As of December 31, 1927, the cost of road and equipment, based on construction vouchers, was $8,137,627. Estimated on the basis of the index numbers of the United States Department of Labor, the cost of reproduction of the road and equipment was $13,440,921 as of December 31, 1926. The foregoing figures do not take account of accrued depreciation which appears on the books of the Railroad Company as of December 31, 1927, at $933,923,96. Additional bonds may be issued only in accordance with the conservative provisions of the mortgage as supplemented.

EARNINGS: The average net earnings, including those of EARNINGS: The average net earnings, including those of subsidiaries, after depreciation and all deductions, except Federal income taxes, for the five years ended December 31, 1927, were $438,739, an amount in excess of three times the interest on this issue of bonds. The net earnings, as above stated, for the year ended December 31, 1927, were $440,549. MANAGEMENT: The management of the Railroad Company, since 1914, has been under supervision of Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., Engineers. Among the Directors of the Railroad Company are the Hon. Wm. C. Sproul, former Governor of Pennsylvania, Mr. Frank R. Ford of Ford, Bacon & Davis, Inc., New York, and Mr. Walter H. Lippincott of Philadelphia.

We offer these Bonds, when, as and if issued and accepted by us subject to the approval of all legal proceedings by counsel, Mesers. Wiss. Whitney and Parker of New York City and Mesers. Townsend, Elliott and Musson of Philadelphia, Pa., for the Bankers, and Mesers. Davies, Americach and Cornell of New York City for the Company. INTERNATIONAL ACCEPTANCE TRUST COMPANY, TRUSTEE.

The Managing Directors of the Union and the respective Associations summarise their letter to

THE UNION: The Wasserwirtschaft im Rheinisch-Westfaelischen Industriegebiet (Ruhrkohlenbezirk) G.m.b.H. (Rhine-Ruhr Water Service Union) has been organized to promote the mutual interests and provide means of facilitating financing of the five individual Associations which comprise the Union. These Associations are obligated to pay to the Union their proportionate share of the amounts necessary to meet the interest, sinking fund and principal of these Debentures. All charges for interest, amortization and operation of the several Associations are assessed upon each Association's members, which include the counties, municipalities and industries in the respective territories served. These assessments are enforceable by administrative proceedings, as in the case of taxes, and each member is liable not only for its proportionate amount but also to further assessments to meet any unpaid assessments upon other members of the same Association. This liability of each member is limited only by the extent of the total indebtedness of the individual Association.

Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co. state that the amounts of the delinquencies of the members over a period of five years are negligible.

The management of each Association consists of experts of high standing and the Boards of Directors are nominated in part by the German Reich and Prussian State, and in part are elected by the counties, municipalities and industries in their respective districts.

The Associations are not liable for any payments under the Dawes Plan and the Union only nominally so liable.

BUSINESS: The individual Associations which constitute the Union are: Ruhrtalsperrenverein (organized in 1898), Emschergenossenschaft (organized in 1904), Ruhrverband (organized in 1913), Linksniederrheinische Entwaesserungsgenossenschaft (organized in 1913), and Lippeverband (organized in 1926). These Associations (whose individual obligations will be assigned by the Union to the Trustee as security for these Debentures) are all corporate bodies of a public character having exclusive and perpetual franchises and were created by special Prussian laws to meet the problems of water supply, purification and drainage in the Rhine-Westphalia region of Germany, which is one of the most important industrial sections of Continental Europe. The density of the population and the great growth of industrial activities in this region make these enterprises of vital importance. Particularly is this true since in certain parts of this region the low land prevents a natural flowage of water and drainage of these parts can only be accomplished through artificial means.

The territory served by the Associations comprises an area of 3,500 square miles with a total population of about 3,500,000, the majority being employed in the various industrial activities. During the year 1926 the industries in this region accounted for 77% of the total coal output, 78% of the total iron production, and over 42% of the total steel production of Germany.

OBLIGATION: These Debentures, in the opinion of counsel, will be the direct obligations of the Union, secured by pledge of an equal principal amount of certificates of indebtedness of the several Associations as follows: Ruhrtalsperrenverein $2,500,000, Emschergenossenschaft $2,500,000, Ruhrverband $2,500,000, Lippeverband $2,000,000, Linksniederrheinische Entwaesserungsgenossenschaft $500,000. These certificates of indebtedness will be the direct unconditional obligations of the respective Associations, the payment of which is secured by the Associations' right of assessments rank equally with Federal and State tax assessments and prior in lien to secured and unsecured debts of their respec-

The Agreement under which these Debentures will be issued will provide, among other things, that as long as any of these Debentures are outstanding, the Union and the respective Associations comprising the Union, will not create nor suffer to be created any mortgage, lien or encumbrance against any of their respective properties

PROPERTIES: The plants and works of the Associations comprise dams, reservoirs, hydro-electric plants, purification plants and pumping stations, including the largest sewerage pumping station on the Continent. In addition the Associations own an extensive system of streams and river beds which have been formed into canals having a total length of approximately 250 miles.

Day & Zimmerman, Inc., Engineers, who examined the properties, state that the properties were found to be of a most modern type, of an exceptionally massive and substantial type of construction, well adapted to economical operation, properly balanced, well maintained and in excellent operating condition. PURPOSE OF ISSUE: The proceeds from the sale of these Debentures will provide funds to the respective Associations for further extensions, betterments and improvements to their plants and water systems, and for other corporate purposes.

These Debentures are offered when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to the approval of counsel. All legal matters will be passed upon by Mearrs. Hornblower, Miller & Garrison, New York City, and Dr. Wilhelm Beutner, Berlin. It is expected that delivery of temporary debentures or interim receipts will be made on or about March 7, 1928.

This book plainly shows how—since the last half of the 19th Century—Scotch, Dutch and British In-vestors have used the true Investment Trust to gain greater safety from broad diversification, plus larger income and greater profit, for moderate sized funds.

Compiled from actual facts and figures by a noted economist, this book shows how the old, established form of Investment Trust is becoming available to American investors, affording opportunities hitherto limited to wealthy men.

> THE record of earnings of a corporation is a most important factor to consider in connection with the safety of its securities.

SAFETY

A corporation may have assets equal to several times its Funded Debt yet, if it cannot operate profitably, its asset values shrink materially. On the other hand, as long as the earnings of a corporation are sufficient to meet its interest and dividend requirements by an ample margin, bondholders are well safeguarded, Electric light and power corporations almost invariably show steady and satisfactory earnings, for they render an essential service, in most cases under the jurisdiction and protection of State Commissions. This Company specializes in the securities of such corporations because they yield a satisfactory income, enjoy price stability, and because their safety is proven by ample earnings and consistent growth.

The American Superpower Corporation was organized under the laws of the State of Delaware, October 26th, 1923, with broad powers to acquire and hold securities of electric power and light companies, to construct, operate or lease power stations and transmission lines and to act as fiscal agent for electric power and light prop-

While the Corporation is not limited by its charter as to the character of the investments that it may make, it is primarily concerned with the development of the electric power and light industry, and is particularly interested in the development, through interconnection, of large power systems along so-called "superpower" lines.

Gay and Blithesome Performance Given to "Beggar's Opera"

BY EDWARD MOORE, BY EDWARD MOORE,
Some changes in personnel have taken place since "The Beggar's Opera" was last here, but it goes its rejoiceful way as tunefully and amusingly as it did a half dozens seasons ago. There is, for example, a new Macheath in the person of George
Baker and a new Lucy Lockit in Celia
Turrill, and both are good.
There are also some important hold-

There are also some important hold-overs. Sylvia Nells is among those present to give visual and aural rea-son for the character of Polly Peachum, and Lena Maitland continues in um, and Lena Mailland continues in one brief act to be a complete guide to the pictorial art of Hogarth. Her scene of fainting and being restored by a double dose of cordial is alone worth your trip to the Eighth Street theater and the price they will ask you for a ticket.

This model of gay impropriety would seem in its present, or revived form to be out for a record in long runs, though its journeyings have taken it from London out to California and are bringing it back again. Every effort, says the program, has been made to recapture the spirit of the original work. Apparently the efforts have been successful. Not a decent character in the whole piece, gravely announces the Beggar in the prologue.

TATHER reading Mr. O'Casey's play left you, as it left me, somewhat confused as to why it was the subject of so much commotion in the London newspapers, seeing it as acted by the cast boxed above is certain to clear your mind; for "The Plough and the Stars" comes out in the acting by these Irish as a work of angry sin-cerity, of immense power, and of a certain grim, inescapable charm. Shrove Tuesday Pancakes.

Those who love old-time customs serve pancakes on Shrove Tuesday, or the day before Lent. As to that, the practice of serving special kinds of breads and cakes on certain days all through Lent is harkening-back to this same love. The practices are eminently English, and entertainingly so, because of such facts as that the name Shrove Tuesday was retained in England after the Reformation, though the practice of shriving, in which it had its origin, was abandoned. The shriving allowed the faithful on the eve of entering upon Lent to induige in amusements and festivities, or festive celebrations much like the carnival or Mardi Gras seen to this day on the continent of Europe in a number of countires. This carnival if ever held in England, went out with the Reformation. On this day it seems that pancakes were served to any person who might come inside the door of a home, and the shriving bell was, by the unreligious, called a pancake bell. Boys in some of the schools caught pancakes which were tossed in the air, and if they did not brake Shrove Tuesday Pancakes.

caught pancakes which were tossed in the air, and if they did not brake them and could carry them to some goal they won a prize.

The almanac definition of Shrove Tuesday is the first Tuesday following Quinquagesima Sunday, and precedes the first day of Lent. On that day sins were confessed and the sacrament of penance received. A modern British interpretation of the freedoms of the day has been expressed as follows:

Good, ham and eggs! Soat, break traunt ye many kinds of eating! this, my day of somber moods,

Negro Music Gives Elmer Happy Hour

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

It is not with a spirit of levity that one could listen to or comment upon the program of Negro songs and spir-ituals in which Harry T. Burleigh, the Negro composer and baritone, was the special soloist, assisted by the Hall Johnson singers, from New York through W-G-N, 8:30 to 9:30, last events. ning, for the program was not strictly entertainment; it was too serious in tone, even too historically important for that classification.

In advance it was expected that Mr. Burleigh in the capacity of soloist would be the main point of interest, but far more important issues developed—the matter of Negro spirituals and their interpretation and presentation.

As a singer, Mr. Burleigh displaye a clear, strong, straightforward bari-tone voice of excellent quality, of pos-sibly limited range, but of uncommonly sibly limited range, but of uncommonly easy matter of factness to listen to. He was serious unaffected, and with-out any mannerisms whatsoever. He had a message of Negro song to deliver, and, as in his compositions, so in his singing, he concerned himself only with this message. And he is authoritative.

And we found much that is new in these songs and spirituals as commonly heard from our soloists and choruses over the air. The most pronounced divergence is that Mr. Burleigh sang the greater part of both his songs and spirituals as though they were to be sung by a leader soloist, and the choristers coming in only on the chorus; or as recitatives with chorus, to the accompaniment of either orchestra or organ, or sometimes both.

In the familiar work song, the "Water Boy," the chorus took on the tonal character of a sort of soft humming wall as though done by the was sung as a solo, the chorus playing River."

What niche posterity will place
Mr. Burieigh as a composer none can foretell. The same holds true of the Negro spirituals. But the chances are of the west side political leader.

TWO SERVICES HELD IN SCHOOL FOR W. B. OWEN

Hundreds of public school teachers, principals, and students, who during the last two decades have come under his tutelage attended the funeral yesterday of William Bishop Owen, president of the Chicago Normal college, who died suddenly Friday.

Two services, one in the morning for college students and faculty and one in the afternoon for friends and school officials, were held in the auditorium of the school at 68th street and Stewart avenue.
Francis G. Blair, state su

ent of public instruction; Daniel J. Beebe, president of the Principals' club, and William J. Bogan, acting superintendent of schools, were among those who spoke at the services conducted by the Rev. Milton McGorrell, was sung as a solo, the chorus playing a most insignificant part.

"Nobody Knows the Trouble I've seen," was given as an orchestral selection and the pathos in this arrangement might make one rouse to a the Sacred Heart church, ment might make one pause to consider whether in time this number has not gained greater appreciation than the present justly appreciated "Deep River."

What niche posterity will place

Negro spirituals. But the chances are that these spirituals of so recent development will be a great factor in our American music, and that our indebtedness to Mr. Burleigh will never be lost sight of.

And once more, and even more firmly, am I convinced that men's voices are the best and the proper medium for their portrayal.

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.
